PART 1 – PRELIMINARY

1 Short title

This Act may be cited as the Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities Act 2023.

2 Commencement

This Act commences on the date it is certified by the Speaker.

3 Interpretation

In this Act:

‘caregiver’ means a parent, a legal guardian or any other prescribed person responsible for:

- (a) caring for the health, financial and physical security and general well-being of a person with a disability; and
- (b) prescribed care of a person with a disability;

‘Convention’ means the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities;

‘Council’ means the Nauru Disability Coordinating Council established under Section 7;

‘Department’ means the Department of People Living with Disabilities;

‘disability’ includes a physical, mental, intellectual or sensory impairment which, in interaction with various attitudinal and environmental barriers, may hinder full and effective participation of a person in society on an equal basis with others;

‘habilitation support’ includes programmes and initiatives that enable persons with disabilities to attain and maintain maximum independence, full physical, mental, social and vocational ability and full inclusion and participation in all aspects of life;

‘Minister’ means the Minister responsible for the Department of People Living with Disabilities;

‘reasonable accommodation’ means the necessary and appropriate modification and adjustment that:

- (a) is needed in a particular case to ensure the full participation of a person with a disability in the enjoyment or exercise of his or her fundamental rights and freedoms on an equal basis with a person without disabilities; and
- (b) does not impose a disproportionate or undue burden on the person required to provide such accommodation;

'Register' means the Register of persons with disabilities established under Section 12;

'rehabilitation support' includes programmes and initiatives that enable persons with disabilities to regain and maintain maximum independence, full physical, mental, social and vocational ability and full inclusion and participation in all aspects of life;

'right' means any right provided in this Act that a person with a disability is entitled to, on an equal basis with other persons; and

'Secretary' means the Secretary for the Department for People Living with Disabilities.

4 Objective

The objective of this Act is to give effect to the Convention by ensuring:

- (a) that the rights of persons with disabilities continue to be recognised and protected;
- (b) the progressive removal of any barrier or hindrance that results in the discrimination against a person based on a disability;
- (c) the inclusion of and full participation of persons with disabilities in the society; and
- (d) to the extent reasonably practicable, that the purposes and principles of the Convention are implemented in the Republic.
